Written About Us...

The New York Times

"1 P.M. For lunch, visit Zenon Taverna, a cash-only, family-oriented Greek and Cypriot restaurant run by Stelios Papageorgiou, his wife and three daughters. Zenon specializes in meze, or appetizers; two stand-outs are the creamy, rich tahini dip ($5.50) and the loukaniko spitisio, or Cypriot sausages, which are soaked in red wine, stuffed with herbs and grilled in bite-size pieces ($7.95)..."

CBS Channel 2 News

"The place is like a cool breeze in the Mediterranean...the food is fresh, delicious, and is really the definition of what a great dining deal is... Your senses come alive eating this food..."
Tony Tantillo, Food Expert, Dining Deals, 2007

NEW YORK

THE 75 BEST MEALS UNDER $20

"In the unfathomable fashion of his native countrymen, an expat Cypriot friend of ours demands practically all his food cooked just shy of incineration, and then, as if to enact a resurrection, squeezes an entire lemon over the ashy remains. But the man has a few discriminating tastes: To wit, he has his mother mail him a superior haloumi, the Cypriot sheep's-milk cheese, the way other mothers send cookies. When he runs out, he heads to Zenon, a boisterous, kid-friendly taverna where they grill thick slabs of the stuff and serve it with lemon and parsley."

TIME OUT NEW YORK

"A tasting meal fit for the Gods"

October, 2000

THE VOICE

"The waiter poured cool water from an earthenware jug, then started things with gratis salad and delicious charred pita. Ninety minutes later, Steve was picking the last remnants of succulent red snapper from the huge skeleton on his plate. I scrounged the bit of onion left from my Cypriot meat balls, relishing the vestiges of their mint seasoning. A solitary potato, its skin replaced by the barest patina of broiled crust, beckoned us both. Somewhere in between had been flaming goat cheese, charcoaled octopus and cool, soothing tzatziki."

"Service at this Greek taverna is warm and friendly..."
